Join our presenters as they:

- Introduce and provide an overview of the new Guidelines for Rehabilitation of Adults with Moderate to Severe TBI
- Identify key implications for occupational therapy practice within the community and hospital environments
- Explore strategies for implementing guidelines into clinical practice, including identification of potential barriers and challenges

It is increasingly important to provide a well reasoned, accountable, and evidence-based approach to justify funding for your OT interventions. Whether you work with clients in a hospital or community setting a webinar session has been designed for you! Having a clear understanding of the value of the OT in community rehabilitation and being able to communicate this need effectively is critical. The webinar will outline how the INESSS-ONF Clinical Practice Guideline for the Rehabilitation of Adults with Moderate to Severe TBI can be applied to clinical practice and provide a foundation for advocacy for your treatment. Examples of implementation of unique recommendations will be highlighted by practicing occupational therapists. The webinar will include discussion of implications for clinical practice, potential barriers and practical implementation of specific recommendations.

Target Audience:

Webinar #1 target audience are occupational therapist professionals working in the community delivering privately funded rehabilitation to adults with moderate to severe TBI

Webinar #2 target audience are occupational therapist professionals working in a hospital-based setting, dealing with acute care and inpatient rehabilitation in adults with moderate to severe TBI
