

Research Study Posting and Circulation to OSOT Membership

The Ontario Society of Occupational Therapists (OSOT) is committed to occupational therapy research and is happy to promote OSOT member participation in research studies that support the development of knowledge surrounding occupational therapy practice and/or occupational therapists.

Researchers interested in accessing participation of OSOT members (approximately 4,600 Ontario occupational therapists and student occupational therapists) are invited to promote their research study in the following ways:

- A one-time email promotion in OSOT's weekly member update of your project, including a brief project description and link to participate in your study.
- Posting of your project, including a brief project description and link to participate in your study, on the Research Study Postings page on the OSOT website. This posting will stay up until your specified participation deadline.
- One social media post on OSOT's platforms (Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn) promoting the research opportunity.

Requirements

- Research must pertain to the practice of occupational therapy or issues of significant interest, or concern to Ontario occupational therapists.
- For a research study circulation request to be considered, OSOT must be sent the following in a Word document:
 - Study title
 - Ethics approval and REB number
 - Target audience for participation
 - Deadline for survey participation
 - Principal and co-investigators
